Custom Molded

Bounce an idea off us!

Today's globally competitive world often calls for companies to break the mold and create their own custom products and systems. That may also require custom molded products, designed to precisely fit your one-of-a-kind product needs. You name it, we'll make it.

High Performance Seals has every resource and service you need for your custom-made seals, gaskets, boots, bumpers, grommets, balls, isolators, bellows, diaphragms and more.

Our engineers will assist you in design, specifications, materials recommendations, coatings, prototyping and more. We can also provide testing and facilitate industry certification. Our team has worked with virtually every industry and application. They often provide cost-saving alternative recommendations.
